Selkirk and Yale Hotels Are Among Best in City

Started as Bar-tender in Old Windsor Hotel in 1902—Bought the Senate Hotel on 98th Street and Later Sold It — Bought the Yale and Selkirk and Renamed the Latter as the Selkirk.

Starting as bar-tender in the old Windsor hotel in 1902 when he first arrived in the city, Robert McDonald, popularly known as "Bob," and one of the best known business men and sportsmen in the city, today is operator of the same hotel in which he worked, now known as the Selkirk, and is owner of another popular hotel, the Yale, situated on Jasper near McDougall avenue.

Mr. McDonald's record of advancement in the business is remarkable. Coming to Edmonton in 1902 when Edmonton was a little town with plenty of optimism and a great future ahead of it, he picked up the job as bar-tender in the Windsor hotel. He couldn't start any nearer the bottom. Ten years later he bought it and spent over $100,000 in improving and adding to it. That's a record to beat!

Saving his money like clockwork and determined to get established as an owner, Mr. McDonald completed negotiations for the purchase of the Senate rooming house on 98th street. That was in 1905 and by his neighbors and fellow citizens. Give practical support to your home city by using these goods.

SUCCESSFUL

Bob McDonald, of the Selkirk and Yale Hotels, who started as a bartender in the old Windsor hotel, and one of the best known business men in the city.

the license which was granted to him for the operation of the place as a hotel was the first to be issued by the newly formed Alberta government. Under the law of that time it was necessary that a prospective hotel owner obtain the signatures of 20 of his neighbors before a license could be granted. Many of the old-timers of Edmonton subscribed their name to that document. Starting on his business career, Mr. McDonald moved into the hotel and operated it for five years. With courteous service as his motto Mr. McDonald enjoyed a thriving business and its advance was handicapped by the fact that it was situated in a rather out of way part of the city.

He then bought the Yale hotel. The property on which this building is situated is considered to be among the most valuable of the city and to be in the centre of the business district.

Under the terms of the sale he paid $40,000 for the business, and the fixtures. One year later he purchased the property at a cost of $100,000.

Marked by the same success which characterized the business of the Senate hotel, the Yale enjoyed great progress and then Mr. McDonald purchased the Windsor hotel at 101st street and Jasper, the main business corner of the city.

When he bought the Windsor hotel it was large enough for ordinary business but bigger business was wanted by Mr. McDonald and he proceeded to enlarge the building. The Windsor hotel, situated next to the hotel, was cut into and the two buildings joined.

By the addition of the Windsor hotel 44 rooms were added to the hotel housing the total to 82 rooms. The whole was renamed the Selkirk and stands today as a symbol of Mr. McDonald's advancement.

Across the Seven Seas

ALONG the trade routes over the Seven Seas, leading to more than 100 different countries, go Canadian products. Other peoples—often peoples of strange languages and different customs—have shown their preference for Canadian commodities. This to the extent of a billion and a quarter dollars a year. They buy from us on the basis of right quality and right price. But greater export trade opportunities await Canada from across the Seven Seas.

Year by year Canada is exporting more manufactured goods. In a quarter of a century our export of manufactured goods has increased seven fold. That part of our export trade now amounts to $700,000,000 annually, or about a quarter of our total factory output.

While Canadian manufactured goods have gained a foothold in some of the world's greatest markets, still the volume we export is small when compared with what these same markets import.

Let us take a number of Canadian manufactured commodities, sold mostly in 23 countries, eight of which are in the Empire. Let us place the Canadian exports of these countries against the imports of these countries, and demonstrate the field for greater Canadian business:

The possibilities for greater Canadian exports

Manufactured Commodity	What 23 countries import	Amount Canada exports to these 23 countries
Rolling Mill Products	$378,436,000	$2,143,621
Tubes and Pipe (Iron)	75,606,000	1,919,014
Machinery (not agricultural)	435,605,000	4,298,667
Farm Machinery	72,314,000	15,436,149
Automobiles	259,118,000	26,379,152
Rubber Boots and Shoes	9,918,000	5,568,261
Rubber Tires	97,900,000	15,291,224
Musical Instruments	64,955,000	1,286,000
Printing Paper	215,977,000	116,920,699
Lumber and Timber	626,375,000	62,065,596
Sugar, Refined	167,254,000	11,175,806
Meats, prepared, preserved or canned	337,469,000	22,052,290
Milk, Condensed	52,968,000	4,286,244
Butter	333,304,000	3,083,801
Cheese	131,334,000	24,853,503
Fish, dried, smoked, salted or preserved	170,228,000	20,937,106
Flour of Wheat	173,943,000	51,223,271

These are the latest statistics available. The 23 countries are: United Kingdom, Australia, British India, British South Africa, British Straits Settlements, British West India Colonies, Irish Free State, New Zealand, Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Chile, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Dutch East Indies, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Netherlands, United States.

The accompanying figures tell something of the possibilities for sixteen Canadian manufactured commodities already in the export field. They also show what Canada has accomplished in twenty-three countries—a creditable performance for nine million people scattered over half a continent. But we can accomplish greater things if we go after them in our straight-forward Canadian manner.

Every Canadian manufacturer should keep a map of the world hung up in his office—a silent reminder that Canada cannot live to herself.

In entering foreign trade the Canadian manufacturer must be prepared to: 1. Give a standard of quality. 2. Make the articles required by the importer. 3. Pack in the manner the importer desires. 4. Deliver promptly. 5. Maintain contract dates.

The advantages of export trade to the manufacturer are: 1. Keeps plants in full operation. 2. Brings about a lowering of production costs at home. 3. Lowers prices to home consumer. 4. Stabilizes employment.

We help you get the facts about new markets

The Department of Trade and Commerce has a fully organized and experienced Commercial Intelligence Service working solely to help Canadian exporters. Under the direction of this Service are 24 trained Trade Commissioners, strategically located in different parts of the world. Each of these Trade Commissioners is acquainted with the demands and requirements of the people in his territory.

Trade Commissioners are ready to conduct preliminary surveys regarding the marketability of any Canadian product. They will put the Canadian exporter into touch with reliable representatives, or introduce his travellers to trade houses. They constantly aid Canadians in maintaining business contacts. These services cost the Canadian exporter nothing. Hundreds of Canadian firms have built up substantial export accounts which can be traced directly to the efforts of the Trade Commissioners.

If you are a Canadian manufacturer or producer you cannot afford to overlook export opportunities. The Commercial Intelligence Journal, published weekly, by the Department, will give you ideas on foreign demand. Write us today about your products and your capacity to participate in export trade. The information in possession of the Commercial Intelligence Service is at the disposal of every Canadian exporter.
